Outsourcing

J&M is a highly competent manufacturer that can create reliable, cost effective solutions to complement your outsourcing strategy.

J&M Products recognizes the unique challenges customers face when outsourcing Wire Harness, Sub Assemblies and Box Builds.

Unique challenges and concerns of outsourcing:

- Our documentation doesn't always reflect the current state of the manufactured product.
- Engineering resources are often too thin to update specifications accordingly.
- Since we've been building in house what do we do with our residual inventory?
- How do we convey to J&M what our requirements are?

With over 50 years of manufacturing experience, we are able to assist companies in addressing these challenges. Our engineers work directly from your product documentation, or sample, to determine manufacturability. Once this is determined, your custom manufacturing can be scheduled.

Experience the J & M Products difference; high level customer service, custom manufacturing, and most importantly, customer satisfaction.
